Tidbits about the Eagles.....

- Eastern has several famous alumni, including: actor Ned Beatty, who was nominated for an Academy Award for the movie "Deliverance;" Hugh Durham, the former head basketball coach at Florida State University and the University of Georgia; former NBA player Felton Spencer; and Susie Shields, 1968 Olympic bronze-medalist in the breast stroke.
- The actual building that houses Eastern High School is shaped like a giant letter "e", causing many students to refer to the facility as "Big E."
- Eastern High School is in the Jefferson County Public School district which is among the 20 largest school districts in the United States. It serves Louisville and the surrounding suburbs and Eastern is one of 23 high schools in the district.
- Eastern won the state championship in Kentucky back in 1997.
- Coach Couch coached Greenwood High School in Bowling Green, KY, to a 1-2 record in the 2001 State Farm Holiday Classic. He is looking to get his 100th career victory before playing in the State Farm Holiday Classic.
- The Eagles suffered a rare losing season last winter in Coach Couch's first campaign, but they were in almost every game.
- Rick Bodiford is regarded as one of the top players in the Louisville region. He has played in the shadow of several good players that last two years, but is expected to have a breakout season in 2004-05.
- Bodiford was an All-Region selection last season.
- Keith Nash is regarded as a solid guard who runs the show for the Eagles.
- Former Eagle Rajon Rondo is currently playing basketball at the University of Kentucky.
