Tidbits about the Ironmen.....

- The Ironmen were one of three Intercity teams (Central Catholic and Normal U-High) to have 20-win seasons last year.
- Normal Community won the Class AA girls' portion of the State Farm Holiday Classic in 2003 with a win over Edwardsville who went on to finish the state tournament in the Elite Eight.
- They won the Big 12 Conference championship, and lost to Champaign Centennial by one point in the Sectional championship game.
- Entering this season, the Ironmen have only lost one conference game the past two years.
- Normal Community received votes in the Class AA AP Preseason Poll.
- They return four starters in Whitney Meyer, Caroline Leighton, Katie Thoennes and Emily Hanley.
- Meyer was named to the Third Team of the 2003-04 IBCA All-State team. She averaged 12.5 points and 3.5 steals per game. She was also selected as the Big 12 Conference Player of the Year last season.
- She is receiving interest from Washington University and Maryville University
- Hanley was named Special Mention of the 2003-04 IBCA All-State team and a first team All-Big 12 Conference selection. She also played on the Ironmen volleyball team which reached the Elite Eight this November.
- Leighton is receiving interest from Illinois Wesleyan University to play soccer.
- From The Pantagraph: "We're going to have a versatile team," said Coach Feeney. "We'll be very athletic and run the floor well. I think we'll be a good defensive team."
